Emergency (IT) is a humanitarian NGO that provides emergency medical treatment to civilian victims of war, especially in relation to landmines. Emergency strives for neutrality in every war; its aim is to guarantee the right of free medical assistance to the population affected by a war. Emergency's humanitarian projects usually involve construction, support, and operation of permanent hospitals. However, Emergency has also given short-term emergency assistance to existing hospitals in areas with a critical need for temporary care by providing specialized personnel, drugs or instruments. To date, more than 2.3 million people have received care from Emergency health centers.
