

The Library of the Universidad Complutense de Madrid (ES) has created the Dioscorides Digital Library, whose main objective is to provide public access to a bibliographic history, great value for the history of science and the humanities. It includes nearly 3,000 books digitized full text of our old collection of priceless freely accessible. Also incorporates more than 47,000 prints and illustrations.

Project author or developer:
Library of the Universidad Complutense de Madrid

Where:
ES / Espagne / Madrid

Website:
www.ucm.es

