Diogene bivaccourbano

An artists' residence in a wagon aims to develop artist exchange and mobility

visible

Project author or developer: Progetto Diogene

Where:

IT / Italie / Province de Turin

Website:

www.progettodiogene.eu/

The Diogene bivaccourbano ("Diogene Urban Bivouac―) is an International residency program that intends to promote artist exchange and mobility, cutting down the number of structures for this purpose to a few basic elements by using the network of existing public services that characterizes a particular urban space with the aim of reducing costs and allocating funds to realize an essential living structure, avoiding the construction and management of complex permanent systems.

Cultural System Communication Education Health Food Agents of changes

Art Environment Economics Politics Urban Development Covid

Geographies of change