Eudea is a wiktown and collaborative blueprint that aspires to help form the world's first technologically-oriented ecovillage: a habitat and haven for hackers, makers, tinkerers, artists, healers, permies and plant-people to work on sustainable, accessible, aesthetic and replicable solutions to the challenges of the 21st century. This wiki may evolve into the planning hub for a single settlement or community, or it may serve as a mutable mold for multiple projects on the ground, where differing branches and forks of the wiki can grow and be applied to more than one village. You are welcome to sign up an account and help us ideate, co-create and elaborate the vision.
