

Project author or developer:
SENSORICA

Where:
CA / Canada / Montreal

Website:
www.sensorica.co/

SENSORICA is an open value network focused on design and deployment of intelligent democratic and open sensing and sensemaking systems that allow us and our communities to better manage interactions with our physical environment, to express our full human potential. SENSORICA is a pilot project for the new economy. We are designing and implementing the value network model. This is about commons-based peer production. We are working hard on a "value accounting system"

