

Informational Culture

Informational Culture dedicated to promote culture in information society. Especially culture of reuse of information

Project author or developer:
Informational Culture

Where:
RU / Russia / gorod Moskva

Website:
gtne.org/?q=node/495

InfoCulture aims at establishing an information culture through the promotion of citizen engagement, open data, open government, and plain language concepts by providing methodological, technical and institutional assistance (sharing of best practices and expertise, strategy development, configuration and deployment of a technology solutions, capacity building workshops and seminars, research and analysis) to governmental authorities and civil society.

