

The RFC project is a grassroots volunteer-based effort to organize and promote the development of a community owned food cooperative in Riverside, CA. We're currently in the community outreach and organizing phase of our project, but we hope to open an online, public buying club to link food consumers with local farms, community gardens and licensed private growers.

Project author or developer:
Riverside Food Co-op Project

Where:
US / United States / Philadelphia

Website:
www.riversidefoodcoop.com/

