

EAST WEST SANCTUARY

EWS is a Central European forum for the exchange of practices for sustainable business

Project author or developer:
EAST WEST SANCTUARY

Where:
HU / Hungary / Budapest

Website:
eastwestsanctuary.com

EWS is situated in Nagykovasci, near Budapest, Hungary. It is a hub for the development of ideas and practices in evolutionary education. Operating at both a local and global level, it has an international network of academics, activists and spiritual practitioners working at creating and transforming economy and business. It regularly runs workshops and retreats in both academic and spiritual fields, and runs a publishing programme, including the journal Interconnections which is published by Anglia Ruskin University, Cambridge UK. It is working at finding a language and concepts which bring the idea of the spiritual back into business and our daily lives.

