

THE DOENVISION PROJECT

Impulse education and social alignment for co-creation and innovation for a sustainable world

This is a visionary project offering participative and innovative solutions for reinvention, education and change towards sustainability. To envision translates into creating abundance through creative and systemic work with talent and ideas, focus and group dynamics, expertise and innovation for scalable pattern-breaking solutions; education of participatory leaders, inclusive dialogue and design of projects for groups and communities to upgrade our global society towards harmony with the environment. Purpose: The project aims to impulse you to build the sustainable life and world you want. Offer inspiration, references, education and support to help you envision and create. Catalyse education and social alignment for co-creation and innovation for sustainable solutions. Featured: Series of Snapshots catching momentums of the interaction between the questioning and curious individual and the collective for opinions and debate, projects, collaborations, organizations, trends, events, showcases.
