

JOINT INITIATIVE FOR A CLEANER MOHAMMEDIA

Business and government are working together to build a centre for the transfer of environmental technology

Business and government are working together to build a centre for the transfer of environmental technology known as the C3TEM to increase the competitiveness of local industry, reduce pollution levels in the city of Mohammedia, home to the country's largest refinery, assist local enterprises in the acquisition of upgraded technology, and improve the general standard of living. The aim is to franchise the model across the world.
