

CENTRE FOR ENVIRONMENT AND DEVELOPMENT

A think tank, concept builder, and campaigner for sustainability and social justice in Asia

CED is based in Sri Lanka and works intensely in Asia and network intimately with other regions and is a regular contributor at leading international events on sustainability and social justice. Currently CED works on issues related to Sustainable Consumption & Production, Community Empowerment & Poverty Eradication, Consumer Protection & Social Justice, and Corporate Social Responsibility. In 2004-5 CED teamed with UNEP & CI for a project SC.Asia and formulated "The Asian Review in SC" and was a co-author of the UNEP published "Advancing Sustainable Consumption in Asia: A Guidance Manual". Now CED has launched an "Asian Expert Resource Centre for Sustainable Consumption & Production". CED's "From Poverty to Sustainability" is practical action programme to eliminate poverty using SCP tools. The Better World Childrens' Club was set-up in 2005. A club constituting children in the view of creating a better understanding and caring society. It already has established another chapter in Malaysia in partnership with ERA and FOMCA. "The Sustainer" e-magazine of CED is published and sent all over the world regularly
