Solantu designs objects that are the reflection of the engagement with a sustainable forest management

Solantu objects furniture are produced from autochthonous woods recovered from native forests. Next they are selected, air-dried and specially treated to stress its qualities and fresh beauty. Each and every of our pieces is the reflection of our engagement with a sustainable forest management. Thanks to the connection of the design with the social and environmental engagement Solantu has turned into a platform design of international fair for young designers. Solantu, ethics and aesthetics. Colecci A Liquen, created by artist A Leo Battistelli, A unites Vergano porcelain with patagonian wood and lichen.
