

Project author or developer:
Cittadellarte

Where:
IT / Italy / Biella

Website:
www.cittadellarte.it/attivita.php?att=74

The project/working sites Let Eat Bi, the Third Paradise in the Biellese territory, born in Cittadellarte in 2012, aims at bringing together, promoting and helping organizing the resources and the activities operating in the Biellese territory whose common denominators are food and the care of the land and of the social and natural landscape, facilitating the virtuous mechanism of solidarity and social inclusion these resources can bring about. The key features of the project are:

Culture: through the Ethical Land Register, the platform in progress of the farmers/producers who have joined the initiative. A market selling the products of the Let Eat Bi partners was part of the exhibition on the 5th October 2013 (please see www.cittadellarte.it/leteatbi for future dates), the first pilot-site will also be presented in Lessona (BI).

Culture: through the launch of the Green Academy, educational and practical courses linked to the projectuality of the new born pilot-site.

Conviviality: opening venues (like the cafeteria luogoComune) for people to socialize and collaborate in the name of healthy food and farming.

