

Kindergarten and nature

Children always in contact with nature

An "Agrinido" is therefore a kindergarten built in a farm. 78% of parents think that their own child should be in contact with nature living in an "agrinido" a simple, natural and familiar location. The idea stems from the lack of service of public kindergartens. Entrepreneur mothers and women, who work in farm have thought to built these places immerse in nature. The classes are made up of less children than a traditional kindergarten. Guaranteed all the daily care by educator (lunch, sleep, change). The real difference is in the time spent in the open air and in contact with nature, a sort of "green gym" where it's possible to grow plants, socialize with animals, learn about their rhythms and the principles of healthy eating.
