Since 1987 Careof fosters creativity and artistic experimentation in every expression and form. It is somewhere young artists can be inspired and exchange views. We focus mainly on video art and work through our exhibition space, archive and international residency programme. In December 2013 a new group took over the management at Careof and is working to transform the cultural project into a sustainable one. With passion, creativity, expertise and respect for people and their work Careof means to:

- foster the development of artistic work, research and education
- become a reference point for the production of videoart in Italy and abroad
- transform the cultural project into a sustainable one
- create networks to allow young artists to collaborate
